Executive Council Candidate 2017

Education Sector

Christopher Marlow

Christopher Marlow

I have been a trade union member since 1975 (EPTU). Since 1991 a UNITE member at Leicester University where I am a Workplace Rep and Branch Chair.

I am an elected representative on the National Industry Sector Committee (NISC), Chair of the Regional Industrial Sector Committee (RISC) and Industry representative on the East Midlands Regional Committee.

I truly believe that Education is a public service which should be provided free to everyone at all levels for the benefit of everyone and not operated for profit. We must ensure that education services are maintained for all, especially the young and vulnerable in society.

If elected I shall be a strong sector voice at the Executive and will:

- Fight to end public sector privatisation and out sourcing in Education, which is a threat to job security, the services we provide and our working conditions.
- Campaign to develop a sector strategy on succession planning and apprenticeship schemes for the Education Industry.
- Continue to lobby for research and development funding to be made available to support UK Universities.
- Fight for stronger trade union laws to protect workers terms and conditions.
- Fight against the growing use of zero hours and other exploitative contracts

I'm standing as part of the Unite Alliance because it is time for our union to change for the better. One person can't do that alone, so I am standing with others to make that happen.

Please help us to do so by voting for all of our Unite Alliance candidates.

Why? Because my industry, my region and our Union needs real change now rather than empty promises of what could be.

Together, we can begin to talk about what Unite could be, rather than what it should be.
