

Fiona Tatem

I am an everyday worker in the Finance & Legal sector, much like you. I have worked in finance for over 35 years; starting out in a small building society, then on to Nat West, and have now been at HSBC for over 24 years. I have worked in a small branch of 3 and a large branch of 96; and everywhere in between. This gives me an insight into the difficulties and differences we face in our workplaces be they big or small. During that time I have become a trade union member and an activist holding several elected positions including: Chair of the East Midlands Finance & Legal Committee, National Sector Committee member, Vice Chair of HSBC National Company Committee, Chair of my branch.

I am committed to representing our members at grass roots level and I am somebody who understands your concerns, because they are my concerns too. We have seen site closures, workplace transfers, job losses, off-shoring, pension changes including clawback, under staffing, targets by any name other than targets, an increase in work related stress. This onslaught will continue and we must ensure we have the right people in place to get our voice heard.

If I am elected I promise to work tirelessly to keep these issues at the forefront of Unite's agenda. I'm tired of seeing headlines about wealthy bankers and bankers being the root of all evil...we are hardworking, decent people; and I will continue to be vocal against that stereo-typing.
